

Day/Time Theme	Speaker	Topic
30 NOVEMBER 2011
8.15-9.00 am		Registration and coffee
9.00 am	Quilty, P.	Welcome and opening remarks
9.15 am	His Excellency The Governor of Tasmania Mr Peter Underwood AC	Formal opening of the symposium
Mawson, his people and his legacy
9.30-9.55	McEwin, E.	In search of Douglas Mawson, The man and the myth
9.55-10.20	Johnson, J.V.	Dux Ipse – In Principio: An Historiographical perspective of early Australian Antarctic endeavour and Mawson’s formative Antarctic years
10.20-10.45	Lucas, A.	Mertz – one of Mawson’s men – Hobart November 1911
Morning tea
11.15-11.40	Crossley, L.	Captain John King Davis and the discovery of Australian Antarctica
11.40-12.05	Willshire	Shenanigans back-Stage: Eitel and the AAE
12.05-12.25	Dodd, D	Antarctic expeditions, polar plays and Hobart connections
Lunch (12.25-1.45)
1.45-2.00	Cormick	In bed with Douglas Mawson – a reading
Macquarie Island
2.00-2.15	Ainsworth, J.	George Frederick Ainsworth, leader of the AAE’s Macquarie Island Party
2.15-2.40	Brolsma, H.	Blake’s map of Macquarie Island
2.40-3.05	Watson, C. et al.	The value of historical observations: sea level and land level change at Macquarie Island since Mawson’s 1911-1914 AAE
3.05-3.30	Dartnall, H.J.	Leslie Russell Blake: Mawson’s forgotten geologist
Afternoon tea
Conservation of Mawson’s Huts
4.00-4.25	Jensen, D.	The Role of the Mawson’s Huts Foundation
4.25-4.50	Chester, J.	Going To Extremes: (Project Blizzard and the conservation of Mawson's Huts 1984 -86)
4.50-5.00	Carson, C.	The new Cape Denison map

At end of Day 1. Coaches will arrive outside symposium venue to transport you to Government House. Coaches will return you to the Grand Chancellor Hotel at the end of the reception.

Day/Time/Theme	Speaker	Topic
1 DECEMBER 2011
Modern use of AAE data
9.00-9.20	Henderson, C.	The search for Mawson's Air Tractor
9.20-9.45	Manning, J.	A Review of the cartography of the Mawson AAE Expedition
9.45-10.05	Henderson, C.	Mapping an ancient beach at Cape Denison
10.05-10.30	Truswell, E.M.	Dredging up Mawson; implications for the geology of coastal East Antarctica
Morning tea
11.10-11.35	Shaughnessy, P.	Marine mammals of Mawson's Antarctic expeditions
Publishing
11.35-12.00	Hince, B	A new diary from the 1912 Australasian Antarctic Expedition
12.00-12.25	Leane, E.	Publishing The Adelie Blizzard : an Antarctic newspaper one hundred years in the making
Lunch
Origins and legacy
1.30-1.55	Pharoah, M.	The legacy of the Mawson's Australasian Antarctic Expedition (AAE) 1911-14: Reconciling his preoccupations, with near century-old misperceptions, to understand its significance.'
1.55-2.20	Jackson, A.	Douglas Mawson and the national interest
2.20-2.40	Cresswell, G.	All stops to Mawson Station
2.40-3.05	Brolsma, H. & Testut, L.	Modern use of Cape Denison tide gauge data
3.05-3.15	Evans, S.-L. & Mellor, L.	Science and Solitude: the diary and photographs of Dr Archibald Lang McLean
Afternoon tea

Antarctic medicine then and now
3.40-4.05	Lugg, D. Ayton, J.	Changes in Australian Antarctic medical practice since Mawson's day
4.05-4.30	Lancaster, P.	Mawson and his medical men
4.30-4.55	Wilkinson, R.	Mawson's medical men (medics, medicine and madness on the Australasian Antarctic Expedition 1911-1914).
Concluding remarks
4.55-5.00	Quilty, P.	Summation